

PUTTING THE FUN BACK
INTO LEARNING!

GCSE Media Studies

This month students are exploring different TV genres and the ways in which audiences consume television. Students will be studying the different tropes of each genre and applying this to create their own ideas for a TV drama series. Developing character, screen writing and creating story boards.

They therefore will be revisiting lighting and camera angles as well as considering how didactic and non-didactic sound can be used for effect.

Students should also have made the final edits to their coursework this month ready to be handed in, in the second week of November.
