

PUTTING THE FUN BACK
INTO LEARNING!

GCSE Media Studies

The media department are pleased to welcome back students and are looking forward to a busy GCSE year ahead! This month students will be conducting an in depth study of how current affairs are presented in Western media. They will be looking at different political agendas and bias in a variety of British and American print, visual and new media news platforms.

This study is being conducted in order to prepare students for their GCSE exam, in which they will need to be aware of how treatment of current affairs within different publications can have a direct effect on Western popular culture.

Students will also be making final changes to the coursework assignments they completed last year. This is their ongoing homework for this half term. Students can hand in drafts throughout September and October for comments. Final assignments must all be in by 19th October.
